Thought this would've been a simple but fun puzzle game where you fuse stickers to get new ones. In the end, this is nothing more than a "click a sticker with another one and hope it's actually one of nonsensical fusions possible. The game offers 3 hints PER DAY to help you progress. Hints show you 4 different stickers and tell you that two of those can be fused together. Besides that, there are no way for you to know if you have fused everything with a sticker or not (the game however tells you when you find a dead end in fusions). All in all, just stay away from this game. I've already asked for a refund.. Click everything absently 1.000.000 times to discover the author's curious logic of interconnections between things in our world, sometimes it can be funny. Thank God it's not set on timer, could be recommended just for that fact as a casual distraction. Still I would not buy it for a cent.. I picked this up on sale for 0.59, please keep that in mind. Sticker Craft is a very simple game, but with a lot of hidden easter eggs to discover. You play by combining two stickers together in the hope that the game will consider them a match, if it does you get a new sticker. You may then combine your new sticker with other stickers resulting in a large amount of potential combinations. I think whether or not you will enjoy this game comes down to two simple factors. 1. Will you be satisfied with a game which consists of nothing but combining stickers? There is no real objective outside of figuring out all the combinations and collecting all the 200+ stickers. As a puzzle game it feels a little limited due to the lack of gameplay mechanics/challenges, so I'd suggest thinking of it more as a Cookie Clicker-type game but with a puzzle theme. 2. Do you enjoy oldschool puzzle games/point-and-click adventure games where combining things in your inventory to complete puzzles sometimes went completely out of the realm of logic? I found that Sticker Craft mostly remained logical with its combination solutions, however some of the stickers required very farfetched combinations to unlock. The game wasn't always consistant either; sometimes requiring you to combine two of the same sticker to unlock a larger variant, other times not. For example the method for raft>boat was not the same as the method for boat>ship. If your answer to both questions is a yes, then I definitely recommend Sticker Craft. But if you are seeking a puzzle game with more depth or consistency this is not it. If you feel unsure I'd recommend picking it up during a sale. I found the art charming and the music relaxing, and although I had a few issues with the game as a whole, I enjoyed figuring out all the different combinations and discovering the easter eggs.. Fun game to play when your bored, but you will finish the hole game quite fast and its not really a game you play many times in my opinion.. This game would be best Aimed at kids, i found it to be very boring, the artwork was cute. but yeah. best aimed at kids this one, the cute artwork got me interested, but once i loaded the game.. Really good game; It is what it is as shown above; and yeah its entertaining; 3rd best new game for me 2017 thus far.. Pros: + The graphics are very nice; colourful, cheerful and well drawn. + It runs very smoothly, so (probably) doesn't need a powerful PC. + You can turn the music off and put your own on. Cons: - The music, nice enough first time around rapidly becomes one of the most irritating things in existance. And its it supposed to glitch at the vocal part like that? - (The one which killed the game for me) The interface. The interface has a 'scratchpad' of stickers you can try and combine. You also have a 'bag' which contains the stickers you have unlocked. The problem is that 1) Opening the bag is very slow and 2) Every time you combine something, you the two combined stickers disappear and you have to open the bag to try and find them again if you want to continue to combine with them. Without trying it, you possibly don't understand how annoying this is; but for me it's a game-breaker. Compare with the Doodle titles; there you have two filterable lists which are available at all times, and you combine items in one list with those in another. This UI works . The one in Sticker Craft simply doesn't. Finding a new combination is not rewarding; it's damn annoying. As you have to (slowly) open the bag and find the sticker you combined. And then (slowly) open the bag and find the other sticker you combined. And then, most probably, (slowly) open the bag and find the new sticker, as some stickers combine with themselves. I simply don't understand how the developer thinks this interface in any way helps the player. If you like 'combine' games like the Doodle series, it may be worth a look. And there's a possibility that I'm missing something in the way the game works. But after the 20 mins required for a review I actually got more pleasure closing the game and heading for a refund than actually playing it.. Fun little game. Beat in about 4 hours. worth getting on sale.. very fun took me 2 days to complete all achivments.. A really good timewaster. Combine elements to receive new stickers that feature nice artwork. Rattles your brain and keeps you thinking about what might be possible - and only gives you 3 hints per day so you don't overuse it. Very nice game for a low and completely justified price.
